HHH: PCB Mill from Connecticut Hackerspace

The latest Hackaday Hackerspace Henchmen entry comes from [Bremster] and the Connecticut Hackerspace. He mentions that he's been meaning to write about the PCB/engraving mill used at the hackerspace for some time, but it was the HHH program which motivated him to do so. Yay! That's exactly what we envisioned with this and we hope there are more submissions which will encourage us to continue and expand the program.....
